A few Considerations on Desert: Conspiracy or Revival?

Abstract: The article engages with the debate on desert through a discussion of Santambrogio's arguments in defence of meritocracy. In light of the delicate relation between desert and justice, and shedding light on the paradigmatic case of education, the analysis suggests a deeper investigation of the idea of talent and the problem of asymmetries of power.

Keywords: Desert, Meritocracy, Justice, Education, Talent, Income, Inequalities, Power.
