‘The Right Not to Stay’ in the Perspective of Constitutional Law

Abstract: The paper aims to investigate the ‘Right Not to Stay’ from the perspective of Constitutional Law, starting from the theoretical reflections proposed in the volume by Valeria Ottonelli and Tiziana Torresi. In particular, the paper will focus on the constitutional foundation of this right, on the constitutional rights connected to temporary stay, as well as on the guarantees that should characterise plans to return to the country of origin.

Keywords: Migration, Temporary migrants, Rights, Social inclusion, Constitutional law, Discrimination.
