Abstract: In this reply to Saporiti and Canale's comments on Il diritto come metodo e la scienza algoritmica (2022), I focus on some of their critiques concerning the dichotomy legal science-natural sciences, on the concept of 'method', and on the argumentative short circuit between a supposedly essentialist position and a constructivist position in relation to my conception of the law.

Keywords: Method, Legal science-life sciences, Algorithm, Essentialism, Constructivism.
