Starting from the Focus on the Violent Male. Three Ideal Types from the Perspective of the Man

Abstract: This note aims to refocus attention on the theme “the violent masculine: understanding in order to prevent”. It will present the different perspectives offered in the four authors’ essays: after outlining their key elements, the essays will be placed in dialogue with one another, beginning with the double paradigm of masculine gender construction. From there, the discussion will highlight certain effects of male socialization. Finally, the note will attempt to sketch out three ideal types of genderbased violence from the perspective of the man who perpetrates it, showing how these conceptual abstractions encompass the elements emphasized by the four authors.

Keywords: Violent male, Male socialization, Double paradigm of masculine gender construction.
